

AALITRA Translation Awards 2024

Conditions of Entry

The competition is open only to Australian citizens and permanent residents of any age. Student entries should be marked STUDENT (at the top right-hand side of the first page).

By entering, participants consent to their translation being published in The AALITRA Review and on the AALITRA website if it is awarded a prize or an Honourable Mention.

There is no entry fee, but all entrants are required to become members of AALITRA for one (aalitra.org.au/join-aalitra). Cost: $10 (student) $36 (full membership).

Only one entry will be accepted: EITHER the Prose or Poetry translation.

Only electronic submissions in Microsoft Word format will be accepted. The translation must be submitted on the official submission form (available from AALITRA website), together with proof of the entrant's Australian citizenship or permanent residency status. The judging process will be completely anonymous, i.e. all entries will be de-identified.

Your translation must be entirely your own work.

Late or incomplete translations will not be accepted. Once submitted translations cannot be revised.

The judges' decision is final. No correspondence will be entered into.

All participants will be notified by email of the outcome of the competition.
